DISSEMINATION

Promotion and dissemination of the project

Dissemination is a term used by the European Commission in many of its documents and simply means to spread widely. All projects are encouraged to share (or disseminate) the successes of their project; this means that even after our project finishes, the successes can still have an impact in the future.

Why?

The main aim is to spread the word and endorse the project's results. It can help raise the profile of the organisation, create new opportunities to extend the project and develop partnerships for the future. We will also be asked to detail dissemination activities as part of reporting requirements, so it is a good thing to bear in mind at the start of, during, and after your project.

What?

The kinds of things we could share include fresh approaches to tackle a problem, products such as e-learning tools and handbooks, best practice case studies, leaflets and much more.

Only projects directly approved for funding can use the emblem in their communication.

The EU emblem for funded projects is available to download in different formats. You will find them available in PEAK Google Drive.

Where?

We are asked to see this promotion:

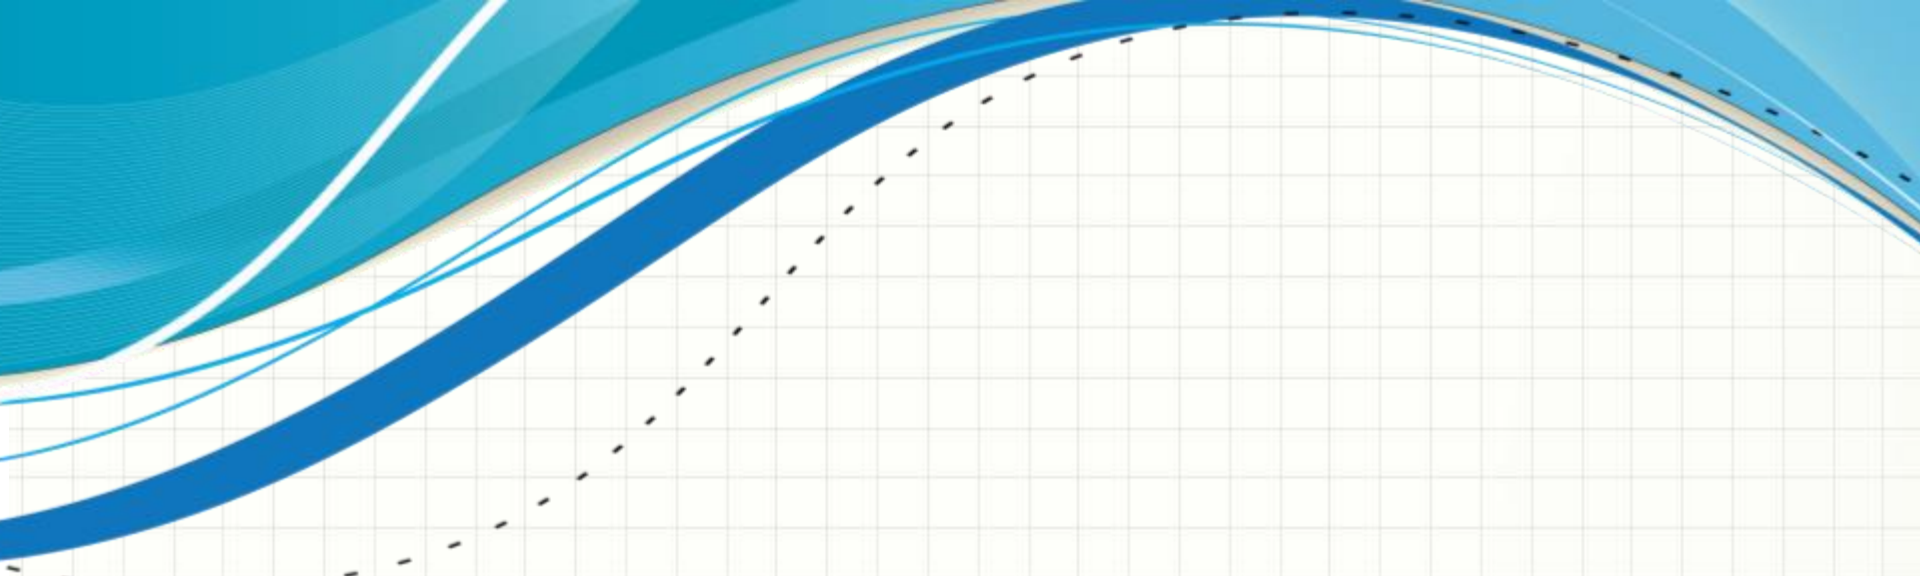

- ❖ on our website
- ❖ on our social media
- ❖ in the media
